DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Flower, 5,830,175. Flower discloses a first means having a detection circuit for detecting a reactive current flowing through the transdermal or the transmucosal and/or a detection circuit for detecting a residual voltage developed in the transdermal or the transmucosal, see column 5, lines 6-11; and second means (i.e., the controller, see column 5, line 8) for determining a conduction state of current into the transdermal or the transmucosal based on the output detected by the first means.

Furthermore, specifically as to claims 3 and 6, the detection circuit for detecting the residual voltage includes a discharging resistor (70) coupled between output terminals.

As to claim 7, Flower discloses an apparatus comprising a preparation for iontophoresis, see column 3, line 24, holding a drug, see column 4, line 11; and a device having means for generating an electrical output to supply a drug fro the preparation into transdermal or transmucosal, see column 4, lines 56-63, and means for detecting a reactive current flowing through the transdermal or the transmucosal and/or a residual voltage developed in the transdermal or the transmucosal to determine a conduction state of a current flowing into the transdermal or the transmucosal, see column 5, lines 6-23, and column 6, lines 23-26.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the above claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
